

Nicholas Wilson of MyInternetBusiness Reveals More Details of Darren Gaudry's New Business

The internet marketing community has been in deep anticipation of Darren Gaudry's release of MyInternetBusiness.

Which has been compared by experts to be "the most highly anticipated launch since Google and Microsoft." We interviewed Nicholas Wilson, a member of MyInternetBusiness and part of the Turn-Key Marketing Group.

Prior to the launch, very little was known about MyInternetBusiness. "MyInternetBusiness was closely guarded by Darren Gaudry and staff. Gaudry knew he had a system that was very unique. He went as far as throwing off all competition by originally announcing a business program named Cash Flow Club. I think that was a great move, he even had me and other members of Passport To Wealth way off the scent of his real plan." Mr. Wilson said.

MyInternetBusiness is a multi-media training system designed to provide people with the tools, software, mentoring and mindset. Mr. Wilson states, "This is were this business really blows the other programs out of the water. The amount of training and support that is in the back office is phenomenal. The back office even addresses the most basics of basics, for example, what is a URL."

"Each of the four different levels (Bronze, Silver, Gold, and Platinum) of ownership within MyInternetBusiness come with their own products, which include an exclusive travel club, NetMillionaire audios, digital products, and even physical products. The digital products include internet marketing software and a library of e-books that teach all aspects of the internet marketing industry in a step by step manner that is ideal for novices and veterans. There is almost 2000 products right now and more are being added all the time" Mr. Wilson said.

One of the many exclusive products, The Net Millionaire Training System, a unique board game which serves as a training device and at the same time encourages the users to have fun while learning about wealth-building strategies is never been offered by any other online business system. MyInternetBusiness at the Platinum level, gives access and resale rights to approximately $65,000 worth of products, many of which are exclusive to MyInternetBusiness and unobtainable anywhere else.

Mr Wilson said, "The video-tutorials and live trainings available through the MyInternetBusiness back office is truly unique and helpful although, there is so many tools that it can be overwhelming. That's why I love being part of the Turn-Key Marketing Group, we help many get off the ground on the right path. We guide our group to stay ahead in the world of our business. We also offer a personalized website that will brand the individual and allow them to make a name for themselves. We also we have proven email campaigns that our members have access to. Turn-Key Group provides encouragement and reinforcement, believe me thatâ€™s important. I remember when I first got started and someone was there to say â€œGreat Job! Try this to, itâ€™s been working well for me.â€

Turn-Key Group holds weekly calls for both team training and prospects. The calls are also recorded so those who cannot make it will have the opportunity to hear the information.

Nicholas Wilson strongly urges for those who are thinking about a online business to really seek out the group that they feel is best for them.
